OPIRG WINDSOR AND THE NATIVE STUDENT ALLIANCE PRESENT:

THE PRESIDENT'S INDIGENOUS PEOPLES SCHOLARS PANEL

MARCH 8, 2019 | 12PM-1PM

CAW STUDENT CENTRE COMMONS

Meet the five professors using their unique perspectives to challenge settler-colonialism on campus. Learn about their research and their expertise during a panel moderated by the Native Student Alliance.

OPIRG WINDSOR AND THE NATIVE STUDENT ALLIANCE PRESENT:

THE PRESIDENT'S INDIGENOUS PEOPLE SCHOLARS PANEL

MARCH 8, 2019 | 12PM-1PM

CAW STUDENT CENTRE COMMONS

The University of Windsor sits on the sacred territory of the Three Fires Confederacy which is comprised of the Odawa, Ojibway, and Potawatomi peoples. We are honoured to work and learn on this land. However, Indigenous peoples are often underrepresented in academia. Meet the five professors using their unique perspectives and expertise to challenge settler-colonialism on campus.

PROF. REBECCA MAJOR POLITICAL SCIENCE

DR. SANDRA MUSE ISAACS
ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

DR. ONAWA LABELLE
PSYCHOLOGY

DR. ANDREA SULLIVAN-CLARKE
PHILOSOPHY

DR. ASHLEY GLASSBURN FALZETTI
WOMEN AND GENDER STUDIES