RTP Criteria for Engineering AAUs – April 2023

Preamble

AAU Unit: Mechanical, Automotive and Materials Engineering

Date of AAU Council Approval: June 15, 2023

Date of UCAPT Approval: August 30, 2023

1) This document contains assessment criteria and standards for Contract Renewal, Tenure and Promotion (RTP) in Mechanical, Automotive, & Materials Engineering (MAME) in the Faculty of Engineering, University of Windsor with respect to teaching, research and service. The Department's Committee on Renewal, Tenure and Promotion ("the Committee") intends this document to be consistent with University of Windsor Senate-approved Renewal, Tenure and Promotion policies, outlined in Bylaw 23 (Criteria for Renewal, Tenure and Promotion), and the University Committee on Academic Promotion and Tenure (UCAPT) guidelines for the evaluation of Contract Renewal, Tenure and Promotion.

2) The Department will evaluate candidates for their contribution to the development of future engineers as guided by CEAB and IQAP. This contribution is assessed by the UCAPT in terms of teaching, research, and service. The RPT Committee shall recognize when a candidate exhibits exceptional performance in any of these three areas by adjusting the weighting of criteria in those areas.

3) Bylaw 23 emphasizes demonstrated competence and engagement in teaching, scholarship and service: it is the responsibility of the candidate to make a solid, evidence-supported case that the candidate has met the Faculty's criteria and standards in these areas. This case, which should include a teaching dossier, research statement, CV, publications for external review and a record of service contributions, may be augmented by the RTP submission components outlined in the UCAPT Resource Guide. In addition, contextual boxes have been provided for the candidate to demonstrate excellence that has not been captured by the quantitative measures.

4) MAME believes equity, diversity, and inclusion is about creating a departmental culture that embraces the uniqueness of individuals and is representative of the Canadian population. Equity means that people of all identities are treated fairly. Their individual rights, responsibilities and opportunities are not dependent upon identity. Diversity consists of the conditions, expressions, and experiences of different individuals. It encompasses the unique qualities and characteristics that we all possess.

Inclusion is the cultivation of an environment in which all people are welcome, where their differences are embraced, and where they all have access to the same opportunities. The department values equity, diversity, and inclusion because every person has a right to equal treatment, and because diverse backgrounds, perspectives, and experiences are integral to the quality of the University's intellectual mission.[1].

Our goals are to foster a diverse and inclusive environment by continuous engagement of the department to remove barriers faced by equity-deserving groups. We will create, support and maintain a learning, research, and work environment that is free from discriminatory and intimidating behaviour. We will address issues related to equity-deserving groups that include, but are not limited to, those represented by race, sex, creed, age, disability, sexuality, gender, neurodiversity, and socioeconomic status. In the spirit of reconciliation, we will also strive to develop and enhance existing Indigenous relationships[1].

When asked to do so by candidates and provided with an explanation of the interruptions, the Committee will take into consideration both career interruptions and special circumstances that may have affected the productivity of candidates during the period under consideration. Career interruptions and special circumstances occur when, for health, administrative, family or other reasons, a faculty member is taken away from their normal teaching, research or service work for an extended period of time. In addition, the terms under which the faculty member was hired (e.g. distribution of effort between teaching, research, and service) should be taken into account, if they existed.

5) There are three sections to these criteria: RTP Teaching, RTP Research, and RTP Service. By default, the distribution of effort is 40% for teaching, 40% for research and 20% for service for a Regular tenured and tenure track faculty member and 80% for teaching and 20% for service for a Teaching Intensive faculty member. This document lays out the minimum criteria in their respective sections. However, the candidate must demonstrate, with evidence, proficiency in all categories and strength in one or more category.

6) Residency requirement: normally faculty members must have worked as a full-time tenure-track faculty member for a minimum of ten years since being hired as an Assistant Professor or five years as an Associate Professor before applying for (full) Professor rank.

7) Time frames for Renewal and promotion to Associate Professor are normally since joining the University of Windsor. For promotion to Full Professor, the time frame is normally based on lifetime contributions.
