Course Outline

Course Description: This course provides an overview economic development issues in Indigenous communities and among Indigenous individuals in Canada. The course begins with an overview of economic concepts to enable students to think about the economic issues in Indigenous communities. Next an historical overview and discussion of development strategies of the Federal government in Canada is provided. Students are then exposed to ways that land, labour and capital can stimulate economic development on and off-reserve. We finally discuss issues of natural resource development, social enterprises, gaming in First Nations communities and urban reserves. The course concludes with case studies of economic development in Indigenous communities, highlighting the diversity of these initiatives across Canada.

Course Format: The course is lecture based, although class participation and discussion is an important element of the course.

Course Material: We draw from the following books:
Shaun Loney (2016), An Army of Problem Solvers, available online at https://www.encompass.coop/books/an-army-of-problem-solvers or you may purchase it at McNally Robinson or the University Bookstore.
Students will also read journal articles, policy papers and portions of books that may be accessed online through the University library.

Class presentations: Students will choose a case study and describe it to the class, highlighting the potential reasons for success in terms of economic development for this particular community/industry. Presentations will be approximately 5 minutes long and may be completed in pairs or trios (a pair would review 2 case studies for a 10-minute presentation). Groups may also have some members that do not present but help with the research for the presentation.

Grading: The grades for this course will be determined as follows:
(a) Mid-term test – 25% of grade
(b) Assignments – 30% of grade (each assignment is worth 10%)
(c) Class Presentation – Final week of classes - 7% of grade
(d) Final Exam – 38%

Important Notices (Posted on Nexus)

1. When it is necessary to cancel a class due to exceptional circumstances, I will make every effort to inform students via uwinnipeg email, as well as the Departmental Assistant and Chair/Dean so that class cancellation forms can be posted outside classrooms.

2. Students are reminded that they have a responsibility to regularly check their uwinnipeg e-mail addresses to ensure timely receipt of correspondence from the University and/or their course instructors.

3. Please note that withdrawing before the voluntary withdrawal date does not necessarily result in a fee refund.

4. The first day of class is September 9, 2019. The last regularly-scheduled class will be held on December 2, 2019. A make-up class for the missed November 11 (Remembrance Day) class will be held on December 3, 2019 (at the same time as our usual lecture). The exam period is December 5-19, 2019.

5. Avoiding Academic and Non-academic Misconduct. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with the Academic Regulations and Policies found in the University Academic Calendar at: https://uwinnipeg.ca/academics/calendar/docs/regulationsandpolicies.pdf. Particular attention should be given to subsections 8 (Student Discipline), 9 (Senate Appeals), and 10 (Grade Appeals). Please note, in particular, the subsection of Student Discipline pertaining to plagiarism and other forms of cheating.

Detailed information can be found at the following:

6. Misuse of Filesharing Sites. Uploading essays and other assignments to essay vendor or trader sites (filesharing sites that are known providers of essays for use by others who submit them to instructors as their own work) involves “aiding and abetting” plagiarism. Students who do this can be charged with Academic Misconduct.

7. Avoiding Copyright Violation. Course materials are owned by the instructor who developed them. Examples of such materials are course outlines, assignment descriptions, lecture notes, test questions, and presentation slides. Students who upload these materials to filesharing sites, or in any other way share these materials with others outside the class without prior permission of the instructor/presenter, are in violation of copyright law and University policy. Students must also seek prior permission of the instructor /presenter before photographing or recording slides, presentations, lectures, and notes on the board.

8. Research Ethics. Students conducting research interviews, focus groups, surveys, or any other method of collecting data from any person, including a family member, must obtain research ethics approval before commencing data collection. Exceptions are research activities done in class as a learning exercise. For submission requirements and deadlines, see http://www.uwinnipeg.ca/research/human-ethics.html.

9. All assignments and the paper due in this course must be type-written.

10. You may be asked for identification during tests and the final examination. Only non-programmable calculators are allowed during tests and the final examination.
The following Senate Regulations and faculty guidelines also apply to this course:

1. Senate approved final grades for all courses (other than pass/fail) include A+, A, A-, B+, B, C+, C, D and F. Final grades shall be approved by the Department Review Committee and may be subject to change.

2. November 12 is the final date to withdraw without academic penalty for this course. Students are encouraged to see the instructor for advice before withdrawing. (Note that withdrawing before the final date does not necessarily result in a fee refund.)

3. No classes will be held during the Mid-Term Reading Week, October 13-19, 2019. The University is closed on October 14, 2019 for Thanksgiving and November 11, 2019 for Remembrance Day.

4. Students may choose not to attend classes or write examinations on holy days of their religion, but they must notify their instructors at least two weeks in advance. Instructors will then provide opportunity for students to make up work examinations without penalty. A list of religious holidays can be found in the 2019-20 Undergraduate Academic Calendar.

5. Students with documented disabilities, temporary or chronic medical conditions, requiring academic accommodations for tests/exams (e.g., private space) or during lectures/laboratories (e.g., note-takers) are encouraged to contact Accessibility Services (AS) at 204-786-9771 or accessibilityservices@uwinnipeg.ca to discuss appropriate options. All information about a student’s disability or medical condition remains confidential http://www.uwinnipeg.ca/accessibility.

6. All students, faculty and staff have the right to participate, learn, and work in an environment that is free of harassment and discrimination. The UW Respectful Working and Learning Environment Policy may be found online at http://www.uwinnipeg.ca/respect/
