Semester Winter 2021:*ANZO-2610 Animals and the Law -

Monday, Wednesday 10:00 a.m.–11:20 a.m.

This course, for undergraduate non-law majors, focuses on the role of law in human-animal interactions and the balancing of competing interests within traditional areas of law. Students will explore and debate the major issues surrounding animal welfare, rights, and protection, including the legal status of animals as living property, and the evolving societal beliefs and values surrounding these issues. The course will primarily focus on examining and comparing the laws of Canada and the United States, although laws and constitutions of other countries, as well as international law, will also be considered. (Prerequisite: ANZO-1600). (Can be taken as either a Social Science or Arts option).

All Candidates should include the following:

- A brief statement that explains how the applicant's teaching and research background prepares her/him to teach this particular course
- A previous syllabus related to the subject matter or a sample syllabus of the advertised course

New Applications should also include the following: (If candidate has previously taught at U of Windsor review Article 54:08 b)

- Letter of application, including statement of citizenship/immigration status
- A current curriculum vitae (for the Faculty Association template click here: <https://www.wufa.ca/article-131/schedule-a-curriculum-vitae-form>)
- A statement of teaching philosophy and interests
- Three current letters of reference
- Evidence of qualifications (e.g. transcripts, certification of degrees, courses taken, dissertation and thesis topic, indications of successful teaching, etc.)

Candidates who have previously taught at the University in the past two (2) years (article 54:08 a) and have submitted their written statement of interest by March 1 annually shall be considered for all courses to which they are qualified to teach. Those who have taught previously at the University shall not be required to complete the application form or supply letters of recommendation for each reappointment (article 54:08 b).
