

Presenting the Past to the Public: A Symposium on Race, Slavery, Resistance, and Identity in the Detroit River Borderland

In conjunction with the Detroit River Project and the Center for Education Design, Evaluation, and Research at the University of Michigan, the Department of History at the University of Windsor would like to invite you to celebrate Local History at this upcoming symposium.

There will be no charge associated with attending this Hyflex event, which will be held from 9:00am to 3:00pm on March 31, 2023 at the Alan Wildeman Centre for the Creative Arts (360 Freedom Way). The event will include four student-led presentations, a light lunch, and a panel discussion on “Teaching Local History in Dynamic Learning Environments.”

This symposium has been supported by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council, the University of Windsor, and the Motor City Community Credit Union. If you are unable to attend the event in person, we encourage you to join us in a virtual setting using the link below. The event will also be recorded and subsequently uploaded to the Detroit River Project homepage.
