

Sessional / Overload Appointments – FALL 2024

The Department of Kinesiology, Faculty of Human Kinetics, invites applications from qualified individuals who are interested in teaching the following courses:
KINE-1500-01 Principles of Sport Management MW 8:30 a.m. – 9:50 a.m.	An introduction to sport management as a profession and academic discipline. Special emphasis will be given to the principles associated with the management of various types of sport organizations, along with the knowledge, skills, and abilities to successfully navigate employment in the sport industry.
KINE-2520-01 Sport Finance MW 11:30 a.m. – 12:50 p.m.	Introduction to basic theory in finance, budgeting, and accounting applied to the management of sport organizations. Topics may broadly include: financial issues in sport, financial systems and how they operate, types of business structures, basic accounting principles, capital structuring and other sources of revenue, principles of budgeting, taxation, financial ratio analysis, break-even analysis, time value of money, and various other financial concepts as applicable.
KINE-4050-01 Gender Issues in Sport MW 1:00 p.m. – 2:20 p.m.	A comprehensive overview of the status of women, men, and LGBTIQs in sport with a view towards understanding the influence of gender and sexuality on participants and consumers of sport.
KINE-4920-01 Laboratory Experiences in Kinesiology I M 11:30 a.m. – 2:20 p.m.	This advanced laboratory course will provide students the opportunity to become familiar with operating common laboratory equipment used in the field of human and exercise physiology and the psychology of physical activity. Practical experiences will include performing health related fitness appraisals involving screening tools, flexibility assessments, body composition measurements, heart rate and blood pressure measurements, electrocardiogram analysis, aerobic and anaerobic fitness assessments, the use of evaluation/checklists used to assess sport psychology, applying both classical and recent methodological protocols, collecting common measurement variables, evaluating personal results,, and the use of Fall 2024 Undergraduate Calendar 490 Microsoft Excel. (Prerequisites: Completion of all required first- and second-year Kinesiology courses. Open only to Kinesiology and Health Studies Majors.) (This is an experiential learning course.)
KINE-4920-05 Laboratory Experiences in Kinesiology I F 8:30 a.m. – 11:20 a.m.	This advanced laboratory course will provide students the opportunity to become familiar with operating common laboratory equipment used in the field of human and exercise physiology and the psychology of physical activity. Practical experiences will include performing health related fitness appraisals involving screening tools, flexibility assessments, body composition measurements, heart rate and blood pressure measurements, electrocardiogram analysis, aerobic and anaerobic fitness assessments, the use of evaluation/checklists used to assess sport psychology, applying both classical and recent methodological protocols, collecting common measurement variables, evaluating personal results,, and the use of Fall 2024 Undergraduate Calendar 490 Microsoft Excel. (Prerequisites: Completion of all required first- and second-year Kinesiology courses. Open only to Kinesiology and Health Studies Majors.) (This is an experiential learning course.)
KINE-8050-01 Social Issues in Sport Management R 1:00 p.m. – 3:50 p.m.	Sport managers operate within a social world. This course examines current social issues and their implications for sport managers. Issues include the impact of various institutions on sport management (e.g., sport, government, economics, media, education), as well as the relationship between sport management and various power relations in society (e.g., race, gender, class, age, and physical ability).

For additional information, contact the Department of Kinesiology at 519-253-3000 x2430.

The application deadline is Friday June 21, 2024 at 4:00 pm

If you are interested in applying for any of the above positions, please submit a CV and provide a cover letter to Dr. Dave Andrews, Acting Head, Department of Kinesiology, University of Windsor, at shorne@uwindsor.ca.

Special Qualifications: Applicants will be assessed based on their teaching competence (demonstrated and potential) and academic credentials. A minimum of a Master's degree in an area relevant to the course(s) applied for is normally required.

The appointment to this position is subject to final budgetary approval. Only successful applicants will be contacted.

The University of Windsor is committed to equity in its academic policies, practices, and programs; supports diversity in its teaching, learning, and work environments; and ensures that applications from members of traditionally marginalized groups are seriously considered under its employment equity policy. Those who would contribute to the further diversification of our faculty and its scholarship include, but are not limited to, women, Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities, members of visible minorities, and members of sexual minority groups, are encouraged to apply and to self-identify.