You're Making History - Gino & Ella Paciocco

Opening:

Oh don't you dare look back
Just keep your eyes on screen
Keep learning something new
And we will beat covid -19
For now online's your destiny
But know that oh oh oh
You're making history.

Verse 1:

We were victims of disease
But even if someone disagrees
It is a chance to absolutely seize
The time to pull together
The skills you'll learn forever.

Pre-chorus:

We know it's tough
And that you've had enough
But don't you dare give up.....

Chorus:

If your feeling blue...
There's brighter days ahead...
Just call us anytime....
Cause Windsor Law is there for you.
For now online's your destiny....
But think.... oh oh oh
You're making history

Verse 2:

Windsor Law is family
Make sure to take advantage of this unity
Your lucky to have Anna and Francine Herlehy
they help you pull together
in building your forever.

Pre-chorus:

We know it's tough
And that you've had enough
But don't you dare give up.....

Chorus:

If your feeling blue...
There's brighter days ahead...
Just call us anytime....
Cause Windsor Law is there for you.
For now online's your destiny....
But think.... oh oh oh You're making history

Higher Ground

Fifty years of Windsor law

At the end of the highway
In a hollow of brick and steel
On lands gifted by the great spirit
The spiralling staircase of your dream rises
Built on books principles and gilded reason
Here the learned robed in their best black
Ascend with resolve and resolution
Raising pens arguments and expectations
Climbing skyward to outnumber the stars

Yours is a culture of hard work and fair play
You teach them how to lead and how to follow
To lean on each other and to lift one another
To defend a single voice and champion a cause
To accept the rule or to challenge its purpose
Straddling the centuries fixed and constant
Espousing justice mercy dignity grace
You stand vigilant and wary of a world
Rough and rugged as the river at your door

You take the high ground
Here where the road begins
Here where the humble
Arrive alone uncertain
They leave confident
Bonded by friendship
Your children now
Return to this place
To find you ageless enduring
Your arms extended inviting

Bordertown by Dan Griffin '14

Called out like a fog horn from a river ship at night
As it passed under the bridge they built in 1929,
Trying to bring us back together;
Trying to bring us back to life.

Let the water from the gutters lift the spirits in the room
As the dead dance to the heartbeat of a hollow beggar's tomb,
Trying to bring us back together into ritual commune.

In a run-down bordertown.

Is there anybody out there who can come for me tonight?
Is there anybody out there who can comfort me tonight?
Can you bring me back together?
Can you bring me back to life?

In a city of roses.

Won't you lay me down in a city of roses?
For tonight I sleep on a bed of nails.

Won't you lay me down in a run-down bordertown?
