NOTES

- Students must maintain major and cumulative averages of 65% or better to qualify for Co-op placements.
- Recommended courses: Students who intend to take additional mathematics courses are advised to take MATH-1020 in first year. COMP-2120 is recommended. COMP-3400 and ELEC-2170 or COMP-2650 are strongly recommended. Students planning to pursue health professions other than Medical Physics should seek advice from an academic advisor in the Department of Physics within the first year.
- For a career in medical physics, the versions without the lab (CHEM-2305, BIOC-2015) are completely acceptable. The Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry recommends the versions with the lab, and a medical professional school will almost certainly want to see one on a transcript, so a student thinking of another career in medicine should take those.
- A student may count at most fourteen 1000-level courses toward the degree (Senate Policy on Senior-Level Course Requirements). Please be careful with course selection.
